

BOY VOICES IF HE'LL WANT TO QUIT NORTH

Canine Chorus of 50 Barks Out Welcome At Remote Aklavik

AKLAVIK, N.W.T., Aug. 3.—Lord Tweedsmuir, governor general of Canada, late Sunday night reached this western Arctic port of call, ending the long voyage stage of his northern adventure by establishing an all time speed record from Waterbury.

From Aklavik His Excellency will go to Herschel Island in the Beaufort Sea by airplane. His return trip is Edmonton, approximately 1,000 miles south of Herschel, also to be made by air and will be the longest flight ever made by a Canadian governor general. He is expected to return July Twentieth to the Alberta capital August 11.

Before he went ashore, the governor general and other passengers of the S.S. Distributor ported letters at what is believed to be the first ship stop office in the history of Canada.

POSTMASTER NOW
The post office established a double precedent when Col. R. B. Reid, of the Hudson's Bay Company, director of transport for the Mackenzie River division, was appointed postmaster, the first such post he has held in his life.

All members of the Governor-General party agreed the voyage aboard the Athabasca River, said the Distributor, 11 days from Waterbury, was the fastest time because it was between the Head of Steel and Aklavik, though none could recall the previous record.

His Excellency had two brief visits ashore Saturday and Sunday when he saw the Arctic Red river and Fort McPherson, the latter on Peel river. At McPherson he met 84-year-old John Firth, a native of the Orkney Islands, and his half-breed wife, Firth died and feeble, told the Governor-General he refused to leave the north because he had been here so long. He disliked "HAS HIM WONDERING"

"I wonder if it will affect me that way," said Lord Tweedsmuir. Later R. W. Halc, superintendent of the post office department in the north who boarded the Distributor Saturday from a plane, told His Excellency the story of Firth's previous refusal to leave the Peel River port where he was manager for half a century. It was in 1924 when Firth told Hale:

"I went out once to Winnipeg. It was in 1898 and I stood on Portage Avenue watching the people rush here and there. Everything seemed in a terrible hurry, chasing another dollar. I had three months' furlough and I had to come back in one. It was too much for me."

The governor-general saw the graves of five heroes of the north, Father Louis Coxe, French-Canadian missionary, showed him the graves where lie the body of Father Lezuyer, a missionary who was drowned in 1923 after 25 years service among the Indians of the Arctic Red River. His grave is among those of some who were slain standing cross bearing incursions in phonetic shorthand.

HEROIC POLICE
At Fort McPherson, his excellency visited the little Anglican church and saw graves of two men, members of the Royal North West Mounted Police, who after being lost in the mountains, started back by trail led by longhair, Fitzgerald, and died one by one of exhaustion and hunger after their long days. Later, the bodies were found by a search party and taken to Fort McPherson for burial.

Lord Tweedsmuir was greeted at the Arctic Red River port by the hauling of 35 dogs, as the Distributor tied up at the bank. He went ashore, meeting traders and Mounties and Andre Ngren, chief of the Arrhaband Lezuyer, who appeared uniformed a cross between a sea captain and police officer. He wore a wide leather belt around his tunic.

CANINE CHORUS
As the Distributor, whistling while rounding a bend in the river, came in sight all the dogs in the village set up a howling, which lasted more than an hour. Indians, clad in bright garments, the women in bright shawls and carrying babies on their backs, sat on the bank, watching the official party as it came ashore.

The Governor General sat at close quarters clasp of drying fish, played on pipes to keep it away from the many dogs of the community.

Sunday evening, Father Coxe told about the ship and gave His Excellency a fine pair of beaded moccasins and in return Lord Tweedsmuir gave the missionary an autographed copy of his book, "Green Mountain."

FAMILY LEAVES
The ship put ashore a small family, Sunday, Harry Levine, his wife and five-year-old daughter, Irene, who was born in Moose Jaw, on the shores of James Bay. Andrew's school days were spent at a boarding school, near Aklavik. A former Aberdeen grocer, he entered the Hudson's Bay Company service in 1928, leaving his sweetheart with the understanding he would return if he made good in the north, and marry her. He did and today only 30 years old he is manager of the Fort McPherson post.

Going ashore, Irene carried two caribou, named "Ginger" and "Dicker" which will make their home more than 130 miles north of the Arctic circle.

The vice-regal party arrived here five days ahead of schedule and the day was spent in making ready for the arrival of Royal Canadian Air Force planes.

MAHANOY CITY, Aug. 3.—The last of three men trapped in a cavern coal hole was pulled alive from the mine last night by a crew of rescue workers who previously saved one companion and recovered the body of another.

"The United Kingdom is the country these Imperials fought for; they did not fight for this country. If they have a complaint let them make it in the Imperial government."

The resolution calls the attention of Prime Minister W. A. Mackenzie King to the report of the Imperial Veterans, and asks whether the prime minister approves the attitude and words of his minister, as reported and whether he will take any action to bring about a change in the opinion of his government.

The projected boycott was the suggestion of Allan H. Perry, convention chairman, who led western Canada by defeating Morris Belkin and Sydney Katz, of Vancouver, who argued the affirmative of the resolution "this house favors the establishment of Palestine as a Jewish-Arab state."

GOLD DREDGE Leaps the Jungle!

CANADIAN NICKEL USED IN NEW GUINEA... PROVIDES EMPLOYMENT FOR CANADIANS...

Like a great dragon the tri-motored freight plane-dredger along the New Guinea jungle. Far inland gold has been discovered. To build a railroad across jungle and mountain ranges is the task of the government. The transports of the air carry the equipment inland—two 1200 ton dredges, a hydro-electric plant, machine shop, boilers, compressors, steam engines, sawmills, tractors—40 tons of equipment in all. A 6,000-pound nickel steel tumbler shaft is carried in a single load.

Nickel alloy steels were specified for the vital parts of this equipment because of their greater strength even with considerable reduction in weight—a distinct advantage when air transportation must be used.

Wherever the wheels of peace-time industry revolve, Canadian Nickel is in demand. With the help of Nickel, men in all parts of the world are bridging bridges across rivers, piercing the jungle, spanning the desert, invading the Arctic. For Nickel when alloyed with steel, cast iron, bronze and other metals, increases strength, resists abrasion, lessens corrosion.

And still the search for new uses for Nickel continues. The increased sale of Canadian Nickel to world industry brings more money to Canada, and provides employment for more Canadians not only in the Nickel industry but in industry in general throughout the Dominion.

TEXTILE STRIKERS MUST INVOLVE 16,000 MEN

REBELS CLAIM MADRID FALL APPROACHES

General Says Large Amounts of Arms Left By Loyalists

INSURGENT HEADQUARTERS.
ALABRACIN FRONT, Spain, Aug. 3.—Far up in the picturesque mountains of Spain's ancient kingdom of Aragon, one of the strongest and most dramatic offensives of the entire civil war is waging.

Designed the an attack to drive government militia from Teruel on the east of Madrid, the insurgent advance in two weeks has captured 380 square miles of wild territory, captured 20 villages and killed an army of 12,000.

Today the insurgents rested less than 20 miles from Cuenca, main junction of the last road open to government troops between Madrid and Valencia.

MUCH WILD LIFE
Furthermore, the Madrid defenders apparently are completely disorganized and the country between here and Cuenca presents a terrific defensive problem, being cut off by paths through a mountainous terrain, heavy of wildcats, foxes and mountain game, and with villages few and far apart.

The Madrid troops difficulties are increased because of the withdrawal of most of their artillery and loss of tremendous quantities of supplies, trucks and munitions—some complete batteries were the result of fighting.

Only six Madrid planes have appeared on this front, and they appear to be in the line of continued insurgent air forces.

The Madrid fighters have been driven to the borders of the old Aragon kingdom, along the line of the Tago, and Guadalupe provinces and the tip of Guadalupe.

MADRID OUTLET
Apparently the decision now rests with the high command of the government to plunge in Cuenca, perhaps achieving in the way a check on the final Madrid outlet, but that has been the objective of much of the battle.

The dramatic story of the offensive, that started unannounced last week, has been overshadowed by tremendous battles in Brunel, where the rebels have today by a white-bellied insurgent general command, captured the town of Brunel.

Five brigades of about 12,000 men were captured at Brunel, Castellana.

It is quickly we even found camps where rebels were in reserve and a few men of full of battle.

They have been burning between 100 and 200 rebels (government troops) a day. Our casualties never have been more than 25 a day.

182 Los Angeles Pilots Seeking To Get China Jobs

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—U.S.A.—The Los Angeles Times reports today 182 Los Angeles pilots and aviation mechanics intended to join China's army.

Hill said collection of volunteers is prohibited by law, and if they were to go to China, they would be considered as deserters.

There are a lot of boys who have been trained as pilots and who would like to be stunt fliers in the movies but who are out of work. If Americans wish to go to China, they can then enlist there's nothing to stop them.

Volunteers for service in foreign wars are automatically barred from citizenship, said Hill explained. When war has not been formally declared, however, a different interpretation may possibly be placed upon volunteering, said Hill.

BARGAINING RIGHTS, HOURS MADE ISSUE

Workers Declare They Are Fed Up With Present 55-Hour Week

MONTREAL, Aug. 3.—Strikes throughout Quebec province today left in idleness nearly 10,000 men and women and nine big plants which union organizers claim are responsible for 70 per cent of Canada's basic textile products.

The walkout was called early yesterday morning by the National Catholic Federation of Textile Workers at eight plants of Dominion Textiles Limited and Montreal Cottons Limited, in Valleyfield subsidiary, and it pulled a large number of overtures had been toward settlement of negotiations.

HOURS, WAGES
The federation, through its president Alfred Cote, announced demands for the 40-hour week, eight rights, shorter hours and standard wage rates.

G. Blair Gordon, managing director of the company, said in a statement he was "very in order" and would begin his complete rest in the morning.

"Although only a minority of our employees are actually involved, it may be necessary to close down several of our plants until conditions are established under which it will be feasible for the workers to return to the shops."

Workers were admonished to avoid trouble and most of them disappeared from the plants yesterday afternoon after the strike had been declared. Montreal police officers on duty in the city took to each entrance to the plants.

And with the exception of the few pickets and painted placards announcing "strike" there was nothing to indicate the plant stop.

Former Premier, 70 Today, Will Recuperate In French Spa

STOURET, Que., Aug. 3.—Earl Baldwin of Bewdley, who today celebrates his 70th birthday, stated yesterday he had been ordered to take a complete rest as he is suffering from rheumatism.

The former prime minister, who resigned that office May 28, will go to Aix, France, tomorrow.

Lord Baldwin, wearing heavily with the aid of a cane, appeared on the grounds of his home today to receive birthday congratulations of villagers after opening a flower show.

He told friends he was unable to stand for any length of time due to the rheumatism and that he would begin his complete rest in France.

"I am not making any more speeches this year," he added.

GIANT CLAMS
CLOSE THEIR SHELLS ON THE FEET OF DIVERS, AND NOTHING LESS THAN A CROWBAR CAN RELEASE THE VICTIM

IT IS ESTIMATED THAT 2 BILLION LBS. OF COFFEE ARE CONSUMED ANNUALLY THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

Giant clams often attain a weight of several hundred pounds and have a diameter of several feet. Lying in the water, with shells slightly ajar, the creature presents a most formidable grip, and more than one man has been held in the vise-like grip to drown in the returning tide.
